

HUSBAND SUSPECTED

Believed by Norristown Police That Kaiser Killed His Wife.

HIGHWAYMEN STORY DISCREDITED

The Missing Jewelry Found Hidden Near the Scene of the Tragedy—An Insurance Policy One Cause for Suspicion.

Norristown, Pa., Oct. 30.—The alleged murder of Mrs. Emma Kaiser, wife of Charles O. Kaiser, and his arrest for the crime, after his story of a hold up and the killing of his wife by bandits, which, if he really concocted it, would have served as a remarkable plot for a novel, has aroused intense interest here and, in fact, throughout Montgomery county. There are a few who still believe that Kaiser told the truth, and his actions in standing in the roadway and shouting for help with the dead body of his wife in the carriage standing near him seemed to confirm his story, especially when it is remembered that he drove from the place of the alleged hold-up with the corpse of his wife leaning upon his shoulder and her blood streaming down his clothes. His twice fainting in Dr. Mann's office is also adduced as evidence of his innocence, although others say that such a state of collapse might have been caused by fear of the discovery of his crime. The police do not believe his story. They made a thorough search with the result that they found secreted behind a fence, near the scene of the crime, the alleged stolen articles—a man's gold watch and a purse with five dollars in it, and also a revolver with two chambers empty. It is also learned that the couple carried a policy of $10,000 jointly on their lives, that each was the beneficiary of the other, and that each had made a will making the other sole executor and legatee. The police authorities claim to have a clear circumstantial case against Kaiser and say that he is already an embezzler, being a fugitive from justice at Ilarburg, where a warrant exists for his arrest on that charge.

Consul Lee's Vacation.

Washington, Oct. 30.—It is stated authoritatively at the state department that Consul-General Lee's return to this country at this time is without any other international significance than that the state of affairs in Havana just now is so satisfactory that his presence there is not urgently required. Gen. Lee, officials declare, has merely seized the opportunity to visit his family, as well as to see his son, who is a cadet at West Point, he will and possibly take his family back to Cuba with him next month.

Deck Load of Cattle Swept Overboard. North Sydney, C. B., Oct. 30.—The steamship Durham City, from Montreal to Havre, has arrived here with the loss of that part of her deck load of cattle extending from midships aft. Her captain reports that on Sunday morning last, while off Anticosti, the steamer was struck by a very heavy sea and the volume of water she shipped abaft her funnels carried away the cattle penned on the deck in that portion of the vessel, including cattle stalls, stanchions and everything moveable.

Albany's Centennial.

Albany, Oct. 30.—Gov. Morton has appointed William Jay of New York city, William Bayard Van Rensselaer and state senator Myer Nussbaumer of Albany and Hon. James M. E. O'Grady of Rochester, as members of the commission to arrange a suitable commemoration of the 100th anniversary of the establishment of Albany as the capital and legislative seat of the state. The legislature appropriated $2,500, and authorized the city to expend $5,000 for the purpose.

Bonds Demanded for Entry of Armenians.

New York, Oct. 30.—Word has been received at Ellis Island from Washington that bonds would be required in the cases of the detained Armenians. Mr. Hagop Bogigian, an Armenian merchant of Boston, has agreed to give bond to the extent of $65,000. Dr. Louis Klopz of the Christian Herald, and the Salvation Army, through Booth Tucker, also agreed to furnish some of the bonds.

To Bar Out American Glucose.

Washington, Oct. 30.—United States Consul Hurst at Prague reports to the state department that the Austrian government is about to treble the duty on glucose to effectually bar out the better and cheaper article from America. Within five months the United States shipped 2,440,000 pounds of this commodity into Austria, paying a duty of $2.00 for every 220 pounds.

Mortality in New York State.

Albany, Oct. 30.—The bulletin of the state board of health for the month of September shows that there were 500 fewer deaths reported than in the corresponding month of last year. There were 800 fewer deaths under five years of age. Compared with the preceding month of August the total reported mortality is decreased by 3,000.

WATSON'S LETTER.

Several Matters in Connection with Its Delay Not Yet Explained.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The mystery of the Watson letter is not yet quite cleared up. Secretary Edgerton of the national populist committee yesterday, replying to Mr. Watson's statement that he (Edgerton) could explain the delay in the delivery to Senator Butler of the missing letter of acceptance of Mr. Watson, said: "The only reply I have to that statement is to oppose to it the testimony of the senate postmaster and to add that neither the personal nor the official mail of Senator Butler is delivered to me. I never saw Mr. Watson's letter until Monday morning last, when Senator Butler called me up to his house and read it to me." "No," he said, in reply to a question, "I have no copy of the letter to make public, nor am I authorized to state the substance of its contents. Senator Butler told me he received the letter on Saturday night last." This date being accepted as correctly stating when the letter reached Senator Butler, the mystery surrounding the non-delivery of the document still remains partly unexplained, inasmuch as twice subsequent to that time Senator Butler told representatives of the United Associated Presses that he had not yet been placed in possession of the letter. Delays in the delivery of insufficiently stamped communications to senators and representatives in congress are by no means unusual. They arrive chiefly from laxity of business methods on the part of congressmen themselves in the matter of small dues and charges. Insufficiently stamped letters addressed to senators or representatives are held in city postoffice until the senate or house postmaster pays the amount of postage. The senate and house postmasters, owing to their inability to collect these amounts from the members, especially in recess, are in no hurry to advance the amount due, and this may be the explanation why Mr. Watson's letter to Senator Butler, being a stamp or two deficient, may have lain in the Washington postoffice eight days after its arrival here. Nevertheless there seems to be much in the incident which has not yet been satisfactorily cleared up.

Fraudulent Citizens Papers.

New York, Oct. 30.—Fraudulent citizens papers have been discovered in the possession of a number of Italians residing in this city. These papers bear the counterfeit seal of the superior court and the forged signature of its chief clerk. One of the Italians found with the fraudulent papers in his possession stated that he bought it from a fellow countryman for ten dollars. Many arrests are expected.

Silver Estimate of Vote in Kentucky.

Louisville, Oct. 30.—Chairman Sommers, of the free silver democratic state campaign committee, last night gave out his poll of the state by counties, exclusive of this Jefferson county. This is the final silver poll and gives Bryan's majority at 29,112. Chairman Sommers estimates the Palmer and Jackson vote at 5,000 but he leaves it out of his figures entirely.

Run Smuggler Accidentally Killed.

Leavitt, Me., Oct. 30.—George Conner, aged 17, who was found in a lying condition in a stable loft yesterday and died on the way to the hospital, is now supposed to have been hrown from a run smuggler's team righted by a shifter in the Maine central yard in the night.

Victims of the Armenian Massacre.

Constantinople, Oct. 30.—The military commission appointed by the sultan to investigate the recent riots in this city estimates that the number of Armenians massacred was 2,250 and that 400 Mussulmans were killed.

RETURNS AT LINCOLN

Mr. Bryan Will Receive Election News at His Home.

A BIG PARTY OF FRIENDS INVITED

Refreshments Will Be Served During the Course of the Night—Journeys of the Democratic Nominee—St. John Tells an Interesting Story.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 30.—Preparations for the reception of election news at the residence of nominee Bryan in this city are being pushed forward rapidly. It was only last evening that Mr. Bryan consented to permit the wires to enter his house. Both the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies will have bulletin wires in Mr. Bryan's library and in addition to this a special wire direct from the office of Chairman Jones in Chicago is talked of. A large party of friends have been invited to the residence on the night of the election, and refreshments will be served during the course of the night. Mr. Bryan will not reach home in time to register, and his vote must be sworn in.

BRYAN IN WISCONSIN.

Bids Adieu to Chicago and Starts on the Closing Tour of His Campaign.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—A campaign sprint to a number of towns in northern Illinois and back again to Chicago, a dozen speeches in the outlying districts and nine more in the city proper completed Mr. Bryan's labors for yesterday, and when he said good-by to his last Chicago audience late last night he hurried to the Northwestern station and was off again on another flying trip, this time through Wisconsin. Threatening clouds hung over Chicago yesterday when Mr. Bryan, accompanied by Mrs. Bryan and a number of local supporters, started out on his visit to neighboring communities. He ran into a rainstorm before he had gone very far, but the downpour ceased during the afternoon. Great masses of threatening clouds hung over the country through which he passed for the rest of the journey. They did not break, however, and although the cannon ball campaign he made was not seriously interfered with by the weather, Elgin heard he candidate first, and then, in turn, Delvidere, Rockford, Freeport, Foreston, Polo, Dixon, Rochelle, De Kalb, Geneva, Wheaton and Maywood. All the crowds cheered him, some with wild heartiness, while the enthusiasm of a few audiences was tempered by hints for the republican standard bearer and display of yellow ribbons wearing Major McKinley's name. Nearly all the stops were brief and a speech was made at each, with the exception of Freeport, where two addresses were crowded into a half hour. It was after 7 o'clock before he got back to Chicago. The distance covered in the flying trip was 255 miles. Mr. Bryan had scarce time to eat a hasty dinner at the Auditorium annex before he was in a carriage being whirled away to the north side.

SAYS IT'S PROVIDENTIAL.

Mr. St. John Speaks of the Democratic Campaign and Relates a Story.

New York, Oct. 30.—As the close of the campaign approaches work at democratic headquarters increases and every effort is being put forward to bring about victory for Mr. Bryan, Mr. St. John arrived early at headquarters to-day. He appeared to be in jubilant spirits and said that as election day approached his confidence in Bryan's triumph increased. "This present movement is a unique one, and there is no precedent on which to base predictions. From the very start I saw it was a providential movement and that the people were behind it," said Mr. St. John. At this juncture he became reminiscent and started in to tell an interesting story. "Why," said he, "the night before Mr. Bryan made his speech before the convention he was in my room in a Chicago hotel. A United States senator was also present. We were discussing matters and Mr. Bryan said he could not see how any of the men mentioned could be nominated. I told him then that Providence would take care of us and that the nomination would come like lightning from a clear sky." Mr. St. John paused a moment and then said solemnly: "And Providence did take care of us, and the nomination did come like lightning from a clear sky, for Bryan was as good as nominated the next night." Mr. St. John would not give the name of the senator who was listening to this historical incident. Mr. St. John says he is of the opinion that Bryan will carry New York state and that he will be swept into the presidential chair by a landslide of popular opinion.

Crop Situation in India.

London, Oct. 30.—Cablegrams received from Bombay say that the drought continues with no signs of abatement and the crop situation in India is daily becoming more serious.

An Old Connecticut Militia Officer Dead. New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30.—Major William Hull, an old-time militia officer, died here, aged 83.

ALFONSO, KING OF SPAIN.

Spaniards Fear Austrian Influence May Affect the Young Monarch.

Alfonso XIII., king of Spain, completed his tenth year on May 17, and his mother, the queen regent, has arranged that from that date onward his majesty shall have a separate establishment, though he will, of course, still reside under the same roof as herself and daughters. This is part of the wise and far-sighted policy of Maria Christina, who, fortunately for the country of her adoption, is one of the most sensible women in Europe.

The haughty and exclusive nobles clustered around the Spanish throne are, as is perhaps natural, inclined to be jealous of the power and influence which this lady, born an archduchess of Austria, has over their young king. To the credit of the queen regent, be it said, instead of resenting this feeling, she has from the first frankly and openly, while recognizing its existence, shown that it was without cause, as she is the first to assert the claims which the highaloes have upon her son, and to prove that she has no idea of bringing him up otherwise than as a true Spaniard. With a magnanimity and self-denial on which too much cannot be said, she has, during the 17 years of her residence in the country, and especially since the death of her husband, formed her own household almost exclusively of men and women Spanish born, and given no one a right to whisper that Madrid was influenced in the remotest degree by any voice from Vienna. Now, though the youth of her son and the delicacy of his health—far, though getting stronger every year, he is by no means robust—both gave her a right to keep him under her own immediate surveillance, and in the hands of her personal attendants for some time to come, she has taken the step described.

The little king has, of course, from the hour of his birth, had his own suite of rooms, with a large staff of officers, civil and military, especially appointed to his service, but in most cases their duties have been nominal; henceforth they will be strictly defined and carried out. The Spaniards are very proud of pointing out the child's resemblance in features and in character to his ancestor, Charles IV., though less prejudiced observers are inclined to say he is more of a Hapsburg than a Bourbon. That he has a touch of the hauteur and of the self-will of each illustrious house cannot be denied; but on the other hand he has, for the present at all events, gayety of manner and lightness of heart which are not often remarked, even in the early years of the sons of the two families.

Of the nobility of mind of the royal lady in whose hand the future happiness of the peninsula rests, to a certain degree, no better proof can be given than by quoting the words with which she greeted her future husband when after she was first presented to him. It will be remembered that Alfonso XII. was tenderly devoted to his wife, and it was hard, indeed, for him to contemplate the possibility of another marriage. Realizing this, the young archduchess, on seeing him sadly looking at a portrait of the lovely Mercedes, approached him softly: "My dearest wish is to resemble her in all things, for, if I must succeed her, I dare not hope to replace her."—Philadelphia Press.

Rev. H. H. Hayden Goes Free.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 30.—The state attorney has nolleed the case against Rev. H. H. Hayden, which has been on the superior court docket since 1879. The clergyman was charged with the murder of Mary Stannard of Guilford, and the trial attracted the attention of the whole country at the time.

Wilbur F. Porter III.

Watertown, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Wilbur F. Porter, democratic candidate for governor, is ill at his home here, having broken down on his speech making tour, and has cancelled all his engagements for the remainder of the campaign.

Gold from Siberia.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 30.—A caravan from Tomsk, West Siberia, has arrived here bringing bars of gold weighing 200 pounds (7,200 pounds). Another caravan is expected in January. These consignments are independent of those from Irkutsk, Eastern Siberia.

Matthews Defeats Abbott.

Buffalo, Oct. 30.—At the Empire Athletic club last night "Billy" Moore of Syracuse knocked out "Kid" Kerwin of Toledo in the third round. Matty Matthews of New York defeated Stanton Abbott of London in seven rounds.

SULTAN IN DANGER

Powers Again Discussing the Question of Deposing Him.

RENEWAL OF MASSACRES FEARED

The Excuse for the Forced Levy To Arm Imperial Troops Looked Upon as an Invitation to Mussulmans To Begin the Murder of Christians.

London, Oct. 30.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily News telegraphs that the situation in that city is causing the gravest anxiety in diplomatic circles, which are again discussing the question of the deposition of the sultan. The statement of the porte that no forced levy has been made to procure money with which to buy arms, and that the irade which was construed to be an order for such a levy was merely an appeal to Turkish subjects to voluntarily contribute to a fund that was found necessary to raise for the armament and equipment of the imperial troops is recognized as a thinly veiled invitation to Mussulmans to prepare to attack Christians. This cannot fail to bring about massacres in the provinces, even if the vigilance of the guardships is able to prevent the killing of Christians in Constantinople. The correspondent adds that after a meeting held on Monday the diplomats telegraphed to their respective governments asking for instructions with a view to imminent happenings. The Sheikh-ul-Islam, the head of the Mohammedan faith, through whom alone can the sultan be legally deposed, remains at the Yildiz Kiosk, the sultan's residence, nominally as a guest of his majesty, but really as a prisoner.

SIX MINERS PERISH.

Result of the Mine Explosion Near Wilkesbarre.

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 30.—By yesterday afternoon's gas explosion in No. 3 shaft of the Lehigh & Wilkesbarre Coal company six men were killed and two injured. The dead are: Wm. R. Jones, fire boss (had been in the employ of the company for the past twenty-five years; John W. Josephs (had been assistant mine foreman for the past twelve years); Thomas Owens, Wm. Lacey, contractor; James Herring and Joseph Worth. When the explosion occurred Wm. Lacey was at work in a rock tunnel about a mile from the foot of the shaft with thirteen men. Immediately after the explosion a rescuing gang was organized by fire boss Wm. R. Jones and assistant foreman John W. Josephs. The men proceeded down the shaft, Jones and Josephs being far in advance. When about one mile from the foot of the shaft they stumbled over the bodies of Contractor Lacey, Owens, Herring and Worth. At this point Jones and Josephs were overcome by black damp and fell dead in their tracks. The other rescuers were forced to beat a hasty retreat bringing the bodies of Jones and Josephs with them. A few hours later the air current was partly restored and the men were able to push their way into the tunnel and at 8:30 last night signalled that they had recovered the bodies of the four rock miners. The rescuers with the bodies were brought to the surface shortly afterwards. There are several theories as to the cause of the explosion. The most plausible is that the gas was ignited by a blast. The roof of the fan house was blown off and the building otherwise damaged. The shock from the explosion shook the earth for miles around. The mine is on fire and will cause the company much trouble and expense before the flames can be subdued. In past years this colliery has been the scene of several bad explosions. The most disastrous occurred on Sunday, March 9, 1890, by which eight miners were burned to death in a most horrible manner, and two years ago some of the members of the New York coal exchange had a narrow escape. A party of ten were on the carriage and had been lowered a short distance into the shaft when an explosion took place near the foot. The carriage was quickly hoisted out of the shaft just in time to save the lives of the New Yorkers.

Interstate Bowling Matches.

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 30.—The Brooklyn Bowling club of the Interstate Bowling league has decided to send a team through the west again this winter, owing to the interest created by their visit to the different cities last year. The team will leave New York January 26, 1897.

County Clerk Appointed.

Albany, Oct. 30.—Gov. Morton has appointed ex-senator Jacob Worth of Brooklyn, the republican political leader of Kings county, to be county clerk of Kings county in the vacancy created by the death of Henry C. Saffron, for the period ending December 31, 1896.

St. Johns Bank Scandal.

St. Johns, N. F., Oct. 30.—The liquidators of the defunct banks are about to bring suit against the directors for the recovery of sums of money due the banks. The criminal prosecutions in connection with the bank scandals will also be resumed next month.

COCKRAN INTERRUPTED.

Considerable Disorder During His Speech at Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 30.—Hon. Bourke Cockran of New York spoke at Armory hall in this city yesterday afternoon. An audience of 4,000 persons greeted him. He arose amid applause and began his remarks. Some one yelled "Rats!" and the disorder began. There was no violence, but there were cheers for Bryan and hisses for the speaker. "Have you read the Virginian?" was hurled at him from a hundred throats. "How about unreconciled slave holders?" was also heard amid cheers for Bryan. Mr. Cockran replied: "I have read the article in the Virginian, purporting to show what I said in Madison Square garden. I never said it. That paper is the cause of this display of ruffianism. It publishes an untruth by not publishing all the truth. I did make remarks similar to those charged to me, but I also paid sincere tribute to the chivalry, bravery and loyalty to the men of the south and of the courage and fidelity of her women as exemplified in Mrs. Jefferson Davis." It was at this point the greatest disorder occurred. Mayor Mayo, who was present, personally made an appeal for order, and after that there was no further disturbance.

CONQUEST OF THE SOUDAN.

British Egyptian-Expedition Preparing for Further Advancement.

Paris, Oct. 30.—A dispatch from Cairo says that the commander of Egyptian forces, Sir Herbert Kitchener, intends to demand an addition of $64,000 to the military estimates, which already exceed the amount permitted by the international convention of 1885. The object in asking for more money is said to be the raising of the effective force of the Egyptian army to 15,000 men and the continuance of the conquest of the Soudan. It is further stated that the rail road from Dongola to Merur will be completed in a few months, that four months' provisions for an army of 15,000 men will be stored there, and that the advance on Berber and Khartum will recommence probably in March next. France and Russia will protest against the expedition and oppose the increase in the effective strength of the Egyptian army. The Belair-expresses itself "in favor of granting Germany preferential tariffs in Tunis, provided the former co-operates with France in the settlement of the Egyptian question."

Time To Announce Her Intention.

London, Oct. 30.—Lord Charles Beresford declares that the time has arrived for England boldly to announce her intention to annex Egypt. The Morning Post, conservative, applauds this policy and says that the opposition to it in Europe would be purely platonic. The Graphic, on the other hand, declares: "We have pledged ourselves to evacuate Egypt, and the course Lord Charles Beresford advocates would be an act of perfidy."

Riot Against Health Measures.

Bombay, Oct. 30.—The measures taken by the health authorities to prevent the spread of the bubonic plague has excited much indignation among the natives. As a protest against the regulation compelling the isolation of sufferers from the disease, a mob of three thousand natives yesterday made an attack upon the hospital here for infectious diseases. They did considerable damage to the building before the police succeeded in dispersing them.

Rewarded for Gallantry in the Late War.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The war department has just awarded a medal of honor to James M. Burs, late sergeant, Company B, First West Virginia volunteers, for gallant conduct at the battle of Newmarket, Va., June 15, 1864. In this engagement Burs, under a heavy fire of musketry from the enemy, voluntarily assisted a wounded comrade from the field, saving him from capture.

Boston City Bonds.

Boston, Oct. 30.—City Treasurer Turner yesterday opened bids for the $1,000,000 city of Boston 4 per cent. forty-year registered rapid transit bonds, secured by sinking fund. All the bids were rejected. The highest of five bids received was 103.29 for the whole.

Death of William A. Harris.

Providence, Oct. 30.—William A. Harris, known all over the United States as the manufacturer of the Harris-Corliss engine, died at the residence of his son, Fred Harris, on Harnes street, yesterday, in the 62d year of his age. Death was due to cancer in stomach.

Death of a Well-Known Physician.

Pittsburg, Oct. 30.—James B. Murdock, M. D., late dean of the Western Pennsylvania Medical college and one of the best known physicians in the state, is dead at his home in Bellefield.

Village Farm Stable.

Buffalo, Oct. 30.—The Village Farm string of trotters and pacers will leave here about January 1 for Selma, Ala., where they will winter and be prepared for next year's campaign.

Declines To Run for Congress.

Middletown, Conn., Oct. 30.—Daniel W. Brier, nominated for representative by the silvermen, has declined to run.

If you're a butcher, you want Pearline. You want it for the proper washing of your hooks and aprons, and to keep the benches, blocks, floors, shelves, floors, etc., as clean as the thought of it. There's nothing that will do this like Pearline. And it takes so little time, and so little trouble, and work that there's no excuse for not doing it. Keep everything dainty and sweet and clean with Pearline.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous officers will tell you "it's as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back.

HERE'S AN ODD FISH

Probably There Is No Stranger Creature Than This One.

Of Its Own Accord the What-Is-It Board ed the Steamer Mariposa—Adopted by the Captain as the Ship's Mascot.

There are as good fish in the sea as ever have been caught, but probably no stranger fish in the sea than this one which of its own accord boarded the steamer Mariposa.

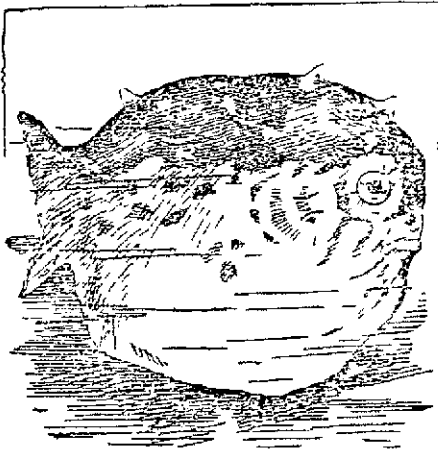

There is not a vessel that plies the Pacific ocean better known than the staunch steamer Mariposa. She is an American boat, and her skipper Hayward is a popular man in every port where his vessel chafes a dock.

The Mariposa sailed from Sidney, N. S. W., on the 31st of August, and touched at Auckland on September 5. On the 24th of September she was safe at moorings in San Francisco, and her master was telling his shore friends the story of the most successful and quickest trip the ship ever made.

"It's a small wonder," he said to a New York Journal reporter, "for we'd a mascot on board that brought us good luck. There was almost nothing but a clear sky and a fair wind to help us along."

"Wait till I show you the mascot." Opening a cupboard, the captain pulled out to view a large glass vessel filled with water, and in it was a fish, which at first glance looked like an exaggerated button ball. It was of golden brown color, and as de from its face, which was as if it had been swimming at full speed and run head on against a dock, there were little mouths scattered all over the creature.

"That fish could read and write if he had hands," said the skipper. "I believe that while he was waiting all the time out there in the Pacific he was making up his mind to board a good ship and travel about the world a bit. We were sailing along over a smooth sea, one day early in the voyage, when this fellow popped right up out of the swell and tumbled over amidships.

ODD CREATURE FROM THE TROPICS

"First I thought there was a football board or the cook had shied a loaf of bread at his mate, but a sailor who was loafing in the waist of the ship yelled to me to come and see the sea serpent. The fish, instead of flapping as an ordinary fish would do, was rolling around the deck like an animated ball, at the same time making a squawking noise."

"I shouted for a can of water, picked the creature up in my coat, for sometimes they are poisonous, and threw him into the can, and he was the life of the ship after that. Sailors were clustered about that can pouring new water into it about half the time. But say, do you know that fish was fussy; when they tried to feed him he wouldn't eat, until one of the men chucked in a chunk of salt pork to him. He gobbled it in a minute, and under no circumstances since that time has the mascot touched a bit of unsalted food."

"He goes to sleep, too; shuts his eyes just like a man, and yawns when he wakes up. There are all sorts of queer things in the sea, but I have never seen the like of this. He ought to stay ashore and vote."

Mica Fields of North Carolina.

The wild and apparently worthless mountain region around Bakersville, N. C., is the main source of mica for the United States. Mica mining is one of the greatest industries in North Carolina, and has yielded fortunes to those engaged in it. Mica is found in all sorts of blocks of various thicknesses and shapes, and can be split up and resplined until it becomes the thin transparent, flexible water of commerce. The material is by nature imbedded in or scattered through the felspar in masses large or small, close together or far apart, and is blasted from the rocks by means of dynamite, the pure veins being found between walls of slate. The average size is about four by six inches, although rare sheets of 24 by 28 inches are sometimes found. The electrical industries are large consumers of mica, it being invariably used as an insulating material on all high voltage armatures and for various other purposes.

Jewish Substitute for Butter.

The Jewish Chronicle, of London, describes a new Jewish product, to be used as a substitute for butter, which it calls nucoline. It is simply the fat or butter of sweet coconuts. Coconut butter, like that from cow's milk, rapidly becomes rancid and this has prevented its introduction into Europe as an edible fat. This difficulty is overcome by a patented process of refining which removes the characteristic odor and taste of coconut oil and transforms it into palatable fat or butter of such remarkable stability that it remains odorless and sweet for many months.

Stars Seen from a Well.

The star can be seen at midday from the bottom of a deep well, but we cannot see them from the earth at the same time, because the light of day is so powerful that it eclipses the feeble light of the stars. For the same reason glow worms are only visible at night.

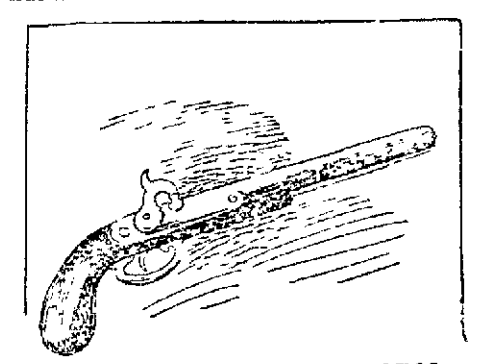

AARON BURR'S PISTOL.

The Weapon with Which He Killed Hamilton in a Duel.

Mr. Louis Marshall, of Versailles, Ky., possesses the famous pistol with which Aaron Burr killed Alexander Hamilton.

The fatal weapon has changed hands many times, and has had an interesting career. Its authenticity is unquestionable.

Judge Van Ness, who was Burr's second, marked the pistol and gave it to Col. James Bowie, together with its mate, the Hamilton pistol. Col. Bowie wore the pair as belt pistols, but lost the Hamilton pistol while swimming a bayou. He afterward presented the remaining weapon to Dr. Carr, the superintendent of the United States arsenal at Baltimore. Dr. Carr acted as second to Thomas F. Marshall, of Versailles, the Kentucky orator and statesman, in his duel with James Watson Webb, editor of the New York Courier and Enquirer, in which Webb was crippled for life. Dr. Carr then gave the Burr pistol to Mr. Marshall, who subsequently presented it to his brother, Edward C. Marshall. The latter carried it through the Mexican war. It was stolen from him by his body servant, but through a miracle was located in the City of Mexico and recovered by one of his soldiers. Capt. Marshall, before his death, gave the pistol to his son, Louis Marshall.

THE BURR DUELING PISTOL.

Thomas F. Marshall, while it was in his possession, had the dueling pistol altered from a first to a percussion lock. It still shoots very accurately and carries a two-ounce ball. Its barrel, which is 12 inches long, looks more like a section of a shotgun than anything else, while the handle is marked twice with the "X" sign, which meant in the palmy days of dueling that the weapon had done fatal work.

PREVENTS DROWNING.

A New Safety Cloak for Ocean and Lake Travelers.

Fourists now coming back from abroad report having witnessed a curious sight on several of their journeys up and down the Rhine. Down the middle of the stream, they say, came a queer looking monster. Large, inflated wings seemed to keep it above the water. In its hands it held an open book, and the face of a man with a heavy mustache bent over the book. The current carried the queerly shaped mass along, and soon the passengers of the boat were informed that F. W. Kuhl, a German civil engineer with an inventive turn of mind, was giving an exhibition of the feasibility of his new safety cloak, which makes death by drowning impossible.

The construction of the cloak is, of course, the inventor's mystery. Outwardly it does not differ in any way from an ordinary overcoat lined with a double layer of rubber. It is very light and the material with which it is filled is of a kind which makes sinking or water impossible. It takes but two minutes to slip it on, fill it with air and have it thus ready for use. Any shipwrecked person can easily spend from 15 to 20 days swimming along in the water, if provided with the pants and shoes belonging to the new garment and the necessary provisions for bodily sustenance. The cloak alone, however, is sufficient to keep a person for several days comfortably on the surface of the water.

Over Four Hundred Perfumes.

It is an interesting thing to know that 4200 species of plants are gathered and used for commercial purposes in Europe. Of these 420 have a perfume that is pleasing, and enter largely into the manufacture of soaps, sachets and sachets. There are more species of white flowers gathered than of any other color—1,121. Of these 187 have an agreeable scent, an extraordinarily large proportion. Next in order come yellow blossoms, with 951, 77 of them being perfumed. Red flowers number 824, of which 84 are scented. The blue flowers are of 591 varieties, 34 of which are perfumed, and the violet blossoms number 208, 13 of which are pleasantly odoriferous.

Ireland Takes Highest Place.

Of countries for which dependable statistics are returned Ireland takes the highest place for numerous families, the size of the average family being 5.2. Next in order come Russia, 4.83; Spain, 4.65; Italy, 4.56; Scotland, 4.46; Holland, 4.22; Sweden, 4.12; Germany, 4.1; England, 4.08; Austria and Belgium, 4.05; Switzerland, 3.91; Hungary, 3.79; Denmark, 3.61; and France, 3.03.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by a who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

The True Remedy.
W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chick" says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at McMonagle & Rogers' Drug Store.

STRANGERS NOW.
They Parted and the Pain of It Went With the Parting—A Middletown Man Is Happy Now.
"Parting"—a word of sorrow generally. Exceptions: yes, sometimes 'tis joy. Parting with friends may be painful. But parting with pain must be joyful. For instance, a pain in the back, Not a friend you will say. Oh, no, but it sticks like one. Hard to shake on a bad back. A back that is lame is weak or aching. Is really a friend in need. It is warning you of danger to come. It's the kidneys talking trouble. Kidneys are near the small of the back. And if the kidneys are troubled so, the back.

Heed the warning backache brings. Or things more serious follow. Urinary troubles, Diabetes, Bright's Disease. Part with them before it is too late. Bad back and a Middletown man. Are now strangers, they parted. T. P. Cronin, of No. 201 West Main street, furnishes an example of this. He says: "Some four years ago I had La Grippe and when I recovered from its attack I found it had left my back in a very bad condition. It now developed into a severe kidney and urinary disease, that caused the most trouble, backache and great irregularity of the urine which had a thick cloudy appearance, was very dark in color. Precipitated a heavy deposit and was so frequent that I had to get up quite often during the night. If I did any extra hard work or caught cold, the pain was always more severe and the urinary trouble more annoying. I took numberless remedies for my complaint but failed to find anything to cure me until I obtained a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at J. E. Mills drug store. They acted in my case about the same as they did in all the others whose published statements I had been reading about. I endorse all that is claimed for Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's Kidney Pills are sold for 50 cents per box or 6 boxes for $2.50. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Sent by mail on receipt of price. PHRYGIAN CAP AND THE KNOT.
Means Taken by France to Keep Out Russian Exiles.

The French republic, thanks to the new alliance between the Phrygian cap and the knot, has done its best to make its soil insecure for those who fled from the tyranny of czarism, says the North American Review. Among Russian exiles living at Zurich, Geneva and Lausanne spies have lately been introduced, even in the guise of alleged lady students of the same nationality. In England alone proscribed Russians are free, and in England, partly in consequence of their contact with the quiet operation of parliamentary institutions, partly on account of a change of feeling among the cultured classes of their own country, men like Stepanik, the author of "Underground Russia" and kindred works, who once had a hand in the fierce active fight against autocracy by all available means of irregular warfare, have gradually ceased to be connected with the organization of so-called terroristic attempts. Their London monthly organ, Free Russia, shows how much they have moderated their demands.

If the young emperor would only consent to the introduction of some kind of representative assembly, such as all European nations have, and as even the sultan had adopted shortly before Turkey was beaten down by the armies of Alexander II., the reigning czar would rally around him many who are at present his adversaries in what is believed to be the camp of the most extreme party.

"BOYS ALL OVER."
How Two Youngsters Experimented with Poison Ivy.
Superintendent Kimball, of the life-saving service, told a story of two boys, and it is so "boys all over," as most mothers would say, that it ought to be printed. The now accomplished officer says that when he was a boy he had a clam, and both were poisoned year after year while running about the woods by poison ivy. One day, says the Washington Star, they heard or read something to the effect that if persons would swallow two or three leaves of the ivy they would never again be affected by it. To relieve themselves of the regular summer and often-recurring annoyance they decided to take a few leaves of it as medicine. Mr. Kimball was of an investigating turn of mind, and found out that on the underside of the leaf there was a very fine dust. He told his companion that as they were experimenting it would be well to see if it made any difference whether one side or the other contained the poison. He rolled up his three leaves so as to cover the dust, and his friend rolled his so as to leave the dust side exposed. With a glass of water and as little chewing as possible they swallowed their doses. The result was something horrible, especially for the boy who took the dusty side of the argument. For weeks after he could not shut his mouth on account of the terrible condition of his mouth and throat. He had to be fed with liquids by a quill, and it was only a miracle that he did not die. Mr. Kimball fared somewhat better, especially as to his mouth and throat, but there was trouble enough on the inside to make up for it. And there was no cure worked. The next season they suffered as before.

"Now, wasn't that like a boy?" is what everybody said, and what all will say now.

A MISSED KISS.
The Reason Why Two Ambassadors Lost Their Places.

Two ambassadors have lost their places through their failure to take advantage afforded them to kiss the hand of the czarina, says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. Count Montebello, the French ambassador, lost his place. It is not made known whether he only obeyed orders or not, but he had to suffer the penalty. It was very unfortunate for him that when the French people through their government had undertaken to show their friendship for Russia by a most lavish display of ostentatious ceremony and the expenditure of many millions of dollars the entire effect should be lost by the failure of the chief functionary to press his lips to the imperial hand.

The other ambassador who lost his position is Prince Radalin, the representative at the Russian court of the German empire. No reason is given for his omission to observe a customary act of homage. He had not the excuse of being the minister from a republic. He represented a court where such ceremonies are strictly observed and an imperial master who is as strict in requiring observance of court etiquette as the Russian emperor. These punishments should be a warning to all men never to lose a favorable opportunity to kiss a lady's hand. Many a man has lived to regret that he has not seized a suitable occasion to snatch a kiss; there seems to be more danger in being too remiss than in being too bold. Where the danger lies and how great it will be either in abstaining or acting is a matter for individual judgment. But it is sometimes worth risking, it would seem.

CURIOUS CLOCKS.
How Some People of Foreign Land Reckon Time.

Neither clock nor timepiece is to be found in Liberia. The reckoning of time is made entirely by the movement and position of the sun, which rises at six a. m. and sets at six p. m., almost to the minute, all the year round, and at noon is vertically overhead, says Popular Science News. The islands of the South Pacific have no clocks, but make an ingenious and reliable time marker of their own. They take the kernel from the nuts of the candle tree and wash and string them on the rib of a palm leaf. The first or top kernel is then lighted. All of the kernels are of the same size and substance, and each will burn a certain number of minutes and then set fire to the one next below. The natives tie pieces of black cloth at regular intervals along the string to mark the divisions of time.

Among the natives of Singar, in the Malay archipelago, another peculiar device is used. Two bottles are placed neck and neck, and sand is put in one of them, which pours itself into the other every half hour, when the bottles are reversed. There is a line near by, also, on which are hung 12 rods with notches from one to twelve.

Lulled Him to Rest Anyhow.
Not long ago a venerable couple from a far western town arrived late at night at a seaside resort, and, being weary, went at once to bed. Just as the husband was falling asleep he murmured: "Listen to the surf, Matilda; it's glorious, worth the journey. I haven't heard it for 40 years." In the morning they saw no sea from windows or piazza. On inquiry, the husband discovered that a bowling alley had lulled him to rest.

"ALL THE MAGAZINES IN ONE"
THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS
Edited by ALBERT SHAW.
THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS, as its name implies, gives in readable form the best that appears in the other great magazines all over the world, generally on the same date that they are published. With the recent extraordinary increase of worthy periodicals, these careful reviews, summaries, and quotations, giving the gist of periodical literature, are alone worth the subscription price.
Aside from these departments, the editorial and contributed features of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS are themselves equal in extent to a magazine. The Editor's "Progress of the World" is an invaluable chronicle of the happenings of the thirty days just past, with pictures on every page of the men and women who have made the history of the month.
The Literary World says: "We are deeply impressed from month to month with the value of the 'REVIEW OF REVIEWS,' which is a sort of Eiffel Tower for the survey of the whole field of periodical literature. And yet it has a mind and voice of its own, and speaks out with decision and sense on all public topics of the hour. It is a singular combination of the monthly magazine and the daily newspaper. It is daily in its freshness; it is monthly in its method. It is the world under a field glass."

Charles Tierney and George A. Waldorf, the Democratic candidates for Aldermen in the First Ward, are thoroughly familiar with the needs and interests of the ward and will worthily represent it in the Common Council. Vote for them.

Middletown never had a more honest, careful pen-taking Alderman than Joshua Hurst. In the people of the Third Ward are alive to their interests they will protect him. His associate on the ticket, John M. Wilson, will also make a good representative of the ward and should receive a hearty support.

The people of the Fourth Ward are not at all having as a candidate for Alderman James L. Campbell. He is a successful business man and it is his good nature and practical good sense which will be of value in his representation of the city's interests. John W. Hunt, the other candidate in this ward, is a well-known and honest, capable and reliable old man and an old friend to the ward. Vote for them.

William R. Rodgers, Democratic candidate for Alderman in the Second Ward, is one of the city's best known and most popular young men. He is an industrious, energetic, and popular with the people, and will be watched by their interests. Alexander Sutton, the other candidate in this ward, has had experience in the discharge of important public trusts, has ample time to devote to official duties, and will make a first class city official. Vote for them.

Most interesting reports reach us as to the progress of the Democratic campaign in Sullivan county. There is every reason for believing that the Democratic ticket will win by handsome majorities. It certainly will be elected if the people of the county are alive to their own interests. A ticket was never presented to the voters of the county. William B. Niven will make an excellent county clerk for he is in every way qualified and thoroughly familiar with the duties of the office. James F. Wood, the candidate for Member of Assembly is a wide awake, progressive man and, if elected, he will do more to advance and promote Sullivan county's interests than any representative the county has had in Albany in years. The other candidates are in every way worthy of confidence and support, and if elected will prove faithful public servants.

If Ira L. Case is elected Mayor he will give the city an honest, economical and efficient administration, without fear or favor. He will represent the city with dignity and ability at home and abroad. Vote for him.

Samuel M. Boyd possesses the legal knowledge and the judicial temperament necessary in the person who holds the office of Recorder. He will not use the power of the office to oppress or wrong any one. The rights of every person are safeguarded before him will be respected, but he will make no trade with wrongdoers and will deal out stern justice to offenders against the law.

A Republican who votes for William F. O'Neill merely cuts from his ticket the name of W. W. Goodrich, of Brooklyn, which is opposite that of Mr. O'Neill on the official ballot, and votes for all the other Republican candidates. It is simply a question whether you vote to have a judge in Orange county or an additional judge in Brooklyn. There ought to be no doubt as to how citizens of Middletown, irrespective of party, will vote on this question.

William H. Benton, James H. Horton, Samuel D. Horton and Stephen Wolf, the Democratic candidates for Supervisors in the several wards of this city, are good citizens and if elected will make excellent representatives in the county legislature. They will look closely after the interests of the city and their votes will be cast against every measure that savors of extravagance and is not in the interest of the people. No citizen who votes for the Democratic candidate for Supervisor in his ward will have reason to regret his act.

William F. O'Neill's interests are Middletown's interests. He is a large property owner here and has always taken a deep interest in Middletown's growth and prosperity. His election will be a help to Middletown and all its business interests for the holding of special terms here will bring to this city lawyers and litigants from all parts of the district. The office of Justice of the Supreme Court is in no sense political and it would be the decent and neighborly thing for Mr. O'Neill's Republican friends and neighbors to give him a large complimentary vote. It is an easy thing for them to do. An X in the space in front of Mr. O'Neill's name on the official ballot is all that is necessary.

PORTLAND, Oct. 30.—The police have arrested Thomas Manchester and Miss Edna Minor for the murder of Martin Delany, who was killed last night, while peering over a stone wall at a young man and his sweetheart on the Hyde Park road.

Delany had confessed that he was with Manchester last night, and that he had been shot. Manchester is married.

HIGH RATES FOR MONEY.

A Little Less Than Yesterday, But Still Outrageously High.
BY UNITED PRESS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The first transaction in call money at the Stock Exchange, to-day, was the loan of $10,000 at 50 per cent.

Stock Exchange borrowers were able to obtain accommodations at from 25 to 60 per cent, this afternoon.

Money closed at 6 per cent.

If You Will Use a Little Reasoning and not be influenced by the claim that catarrh is a blood disease, you can easily prove that catarrh is climatic. Have you not the severest catarrh attacks during winter and spring, and have you but little evidence of catarrh during the summer? Yes. Well, this proves it is a climatic disorder, influencing the membrane of the nasal passages. It is a waste of time and money to invest in blood remedies. The proper treatment is a local application, and the most prompt to cure is that popular remedy, FLY'S Cream Balm.

WHY?

Editor ARGUS:

Why should the merchant vote for the single gold standard?

It causes his stock to decrease in value; it makes his trade bad because his customers have no money to buy goods with; it makes money dear and credit hard; it causes a stagnation of enterprise and deprives labor of employment.

Why should the mechanic vote for the single gold standard?

Under it money is hoarded; investment is hampered; employment is scarce; his yearly earnings are much less than formerly.

Why should the daily laborer vote for the single gold standard?

Under it he cannot find employment, even if he gets $1 or $1.25 per day he is idle most of the time; how much does he earn in a year under this standard?

Why should the farmer vote for a single gold standard?

Under it he gets a cent and a quarter for a cent and a half for his milk this produce barely pays for transportation; the commission trader and the railroads take away nearly all the results of his labor; the value of his farm lessens from year to year, but interest on his mortgage is as large as ever. Why?

Why should the house owner vote for the single gold standard?

Under it the value of his property constantly decreases, his rents are not paid promptly, in fact, if his house is mortgaged the interest is as large as ever. Why?

Why should any producer vote for the single gold standard?

Under it employment is scarce and all paid, he is made harder. He roils that another may benefit?

Why should any honest man vote for the single gold standard?

Honesty in money is stability; this dollar is not stable, by the demonstration of silver gold increases in value, the lender gets more than he gave, it is the dollar of the money changer and the usurer; it is not an honest dollar, it robs the poor who produce; it favors the rich who invest.

Why should the stock gambler and the money lender vote for the single gold standard?

From business motives purely Humanity is selfish, and his dollars will grow bigger and be more powerful under the single gold standard than they would be with a large circulation of gold, silver and paper.

Who represents the single gold standard?

Hanna and McKinley and their aides, Cleveland, Dana and Pulitzer—a pious and patriotic cone are indeed.

Who bears aloft the standard of the people and binetallism?

The choice of the producer, the tribune of the people, William Jennings Bryan.

Shall you vote for the people and the public good—or shall you vote to place in power the money changers of England, whose millions represent the toil and tears, the shame and sorrow of the world's workers? A vote for McKinley is a vote to increase the wealth of the Rothschilds and their kind and to place the people of the United States under the domination of the gamblers in national finance.

Is this an American vote?

Impure

Blood is certain to manifest itself in some way and it often assumes a serious form. Right here in our own city Hood's Sarsaparilla has done a wonderful work by purifying the blood. Read the following:

"My little granddaughter, Mary Elsie McGuire, who makes her home with me, was so deaf three years ago that anyone had to shout to make her hear. She had abscesses in her ears which would break out and run. She would have these attacks for weeks at a time. It commenced in one ear, at first, and finally it was in both ears. The discharges from these abscesses, owing to impure

Blood

Would often continue for several weeks. The doctor said she would always be deaf. I saw Hood's Sarsaparilla advertised so much, had read of the wonders it had done for others and I thought if it would help one it would help another. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla and she took two bottles. Boils broke out all over her head and scalp formed around her mouth. Her throat was full of cancer and her blood was full of humor. The breaking out finally disappeared and she has no humor or abscesses since. She can hear now as well as anyone. My little daughter, Essie, had a scrofula humor a year ago last fall which resembled cancer or diphtheritic sore throat. I gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla and she has not had any since. Whenever she

Needs

If I give her and also the other children Hood's Sarsaparilla to purify the blood and keep them well and healthy. My husband, when he feels poorly, takes it for a general tonic. He believes there is nothing like it and that it is better than all of the doctor's medicine. We all have great faith in it and never mean to be without it in the house. I have told a great many people what it has done for Mary and our Essie and have recommended them to use it." Mrs. MARY LEONARD, 21 Cooper St., Taunton, Mass.

Out in the rain.

A good drenching in a cold rain is often the beginning of consumption. Yet no one claims that the germs of this disease exist in the rainwater. Then how was this brought about? The exposure was followed by a cold; the vitality was lowered; the cough continued for some weeks; the throat and lungs became congested; and thus all the conditions were favorable for the consumption germs.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod-liver Oil, with Hypophosphites, does not directly attack these germs and kill them. But it does tone up the whole system and restores the body to health before serious harm is done. The germs of consumption thrive best when the system is weakened and the throat and lungs congested. Do not delay until it is too late, but treat your cough early. Cod-liver oil and the hypophosphites, in the form of Scott's Emulsion, are the very best remedies.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

OFFICE OF THE CLERK OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, Orange County, New York.

Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Orange County will be held in their room in the County Building at 10 o'clock on WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 12th at two o'clock p.m.

All persons having bills or claims of any description against said county are hereby notified and required to deposit the same, properly made out, itemized and verified according to law, in the office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, on or before the third day of such meeting. All orders for printing or other supplies furnished must be attached to the bills. In default thereof such bills or claims will not be considered at said annual meeting.

In order to secure the proper distribution of drafts for bills and claims, persons are required to endorse on their bills or claims the name of the person to whom they are due, and their post-office address.

Bills presented by justices or constables for services in criminal proceedings, must state fully the nature of the crime committed by the person or persons apprehended or tried, so as to distinguish between felonies and misdemeanors.

On tables or any other officers making any entries in their books, or in any other way, the charges for notice shall state in their bills the date of the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, and the date of the meeting of the Board of Supervisors, and the date of the meeting of the Board of Supervisors.

THE People of the State of New York to James J. Hogan, Ellen Hall and Catherine Hogan, known as Sister Alphonse de la Vierge, late of and next of kin of John J. Hogan, late of the city of Middletown, in the county of Orange, deceased, do hereby certify.

You and each of you are hereby cited and personally appeared before me, the undersigned, on the 14th day of October, 1896, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, to attend the probate of a certain instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, to be opened on the 20th day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six, on the application of Margaret E. Hogan, widow, and next of kin of said deceased, who said last will and testament is and is offered for probate as a will of test and personal property.

And that if any of the persons interested in the estate of said deceased, or any other person, should be aggrieved by the foregoing citation, they are required to appear by their counsel, if they have one, or if they have none, that they appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of their failure to do so, to an attorney who will be appointed by the surrogate to represent and act for them in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, we have caused to be hereunto affixed, with a Seal, the seal of the said surrogate, at the County of Orange, in the City of Middletown, on the 14th day of October, A. D. 1896.

Dated Middletown, N. Y., May 11th, 1896.
JAMES J. HOGAN, O. P. HOWELL, Surrogate.

Pozzoni's Complexion Powder gives fresher charms to the old, renewed youth. Try it!

IN Pursuance of an order of the Surrogate of the county of Orange, notice is hereby given according to law, to all persons having claims against the estate of Catherine Spelman, late of the city of Middletown, in said county, deceased, that they are required to present to the surrogate the proper vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, the executors of the last will and testament of said deceased, at the office of George H. Becker, No. 16 East Main street, in the city of Middletown, N. Y., on or before the 23rd day of November next.

Dated Middletown, N. Y., April 20th, 1896.

JAMES J. HOGAN, O. P. HOWELL, Surrogate.

His Specialty.
"Who is that man who calls on you so frequently?" asked the impertinent friend.
"He's an inventor."
"Indeed! What has he invented?"
"Oh, ever so many things."
"Any of them practical?"
"Yes," was the answer, with some hesitation, "he has had a good deal of success in inventing reasons why I should lend him anything from 50 cents to five dollars."—Washington Star.

The Source of Happiness.
I've known men with a pedigree that reached back to a king.
Who'd get real drunk and beat their wives and all that sort of thing.
I've known men with a million who had such a sorry death.
Of love they seemed to be about the poorest souls on earth.
It isn't wealth nor pedigree that really cuts much ice.
But hearts, in just the proper place, can make a paradise.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

Not the Right Answer.
Parson Downycough—How thankful one should be for the autumnal season with its kaleidoscopic feast of beauty. You know what the autumnal season means, don't you?
Class—Fall.
"Now, what do you most love in the charming days of autumn?"
Johnnie Chaffie—Sausage and buckwheat cakes.—Texas Sifter.

Not Needed at Times.
"Do you find it necessary to drink coffee at night to keep yourself awake?" he asked for no particular reason except that the conversation seemed to be lagging.
"It depends on who's coming to call," he replied with a yawn.
And for two days he scowled every time that remark occurred to him.—Chicago Post.

How Peace Was Restored.
"I hope things are more peaceful in the choir than formerly?" said the vicar.
"Yes," replied the organist: "it's perfectly calm now."
"I am glad to hear it. How was peace secured?"
"Everybody excepting myself resigned."—Tit-Bits.

A Suggestion.
Old Richfellow (desperately)—If you refuse me, what is there left for me to do?
Sweet Girl—Well, I read the other day about a rich man who made his will in favor of the woman who refused him and then went out and hung himself.—N. Y. Weekly.

The Turning Point.
"How is your husband, Mrs. O'Hooligan?"
"Faith, an' he is at the turning point this blessed night. The doctor is just after him, and he says if O'Hooligan lives till the mornin' we may be hopin'; but if not we must be after givin' him up, sure."—Washington Times.

Necessary Preliminaries.
"I'd like to ask you to marry me!"
"Oh, Harold!"
"If this engagement ring will fit your finger, you'd better try it on first. The last time I had it exchanged they said they wouldn't do it again."—Chicago Post.

They Don't Speak Now.
Maud—Your young Mr. Dandier doesn't seem to know it's bad form to grab a young lady by the elbow when he's walking with her.
Irene—It would cure him, dearie, if he ever grabbed that elbow of yours.—Chicago Tribune.

His Kind of a Path.
There was an old doctor, a long ago.
Who hired a fellow to shovel his snow.
But instead of a shovel he gave him a hoe.
For he was a hoe-me-a-path, you know.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

MILWAUKEE, N. Y., Nov. 11, '95.—The Hand Colic Cure Co.—"One baby, now nearly four months old, has been troubled ever since birth by Wind Colic. At last we tried the usual remedies, but until we tried Dr. Hand's Colic Cure found nothing that would give relief. Now we would not think of being without your Colic Cure in our house.—Mrs. D. G. Beck." Dr. Hand's Colic Cure and Dr. Hand's Remedies for Children, 25c. At all druggists.

Chronic Rheumatism Cured.
Dr. H. B. Herlinger, Indianapolis, Ind., says: "For several months suffering with my ankle, I was severely afflicted with Rheumatism. I finally tried Dr. Hand's 'Mystic Cure' for Rheumatism, and in 4 days could walk without my cane. Two bottles cured me sound and well. I take great pleasure in recommending the 'Mystic Cure' to all who are afflicted with Rheumatism." Sold by J. E. Mills, No. 2 Empire Block, North street, Middletown.

An Important Question.
If your friends or neighbors are suffering from coughs, colds, sore throat, or any throat or lung disease (including consumption), ask them if they have ever used Dr. Hand's Colic Cure. This famous German remedy is having a large sale here and is performing some wonderful cures of throat and lung diseases. J. J. Chambers will give you a sample bottle free. No matter what other medicines have failed to do, try Dr. Hand's Colic Cure. Large packages 25 cents and 50 cents.

THE MCKINLEY LEAGUE'S MEETING

A Very Large Audience at the Casino—
Three Speakers Who Were in Some Respects Unique—The Long Hated
Parson on the Best of the Lot

The Casino was crowded to the doors, last night, by men, women and children to hear the three speakers announced for the evening.

Mr. Dayton, the new boss of the Republican party in this city, was in charge. It was noticeable that most of those who occupied seats on the platform have been seldom seen there before and that few of the "old gang," as they are called by Dayton's followers, were to be seen in the audience.

John L. Wiggins was named as Chairman of the meeting and talked about the war and then said the present crisis is as grave as that in 1860 and tried hard to warm the audience, but it didn't warm perceptibly, with enthusiasm at least.

The first speaker introduced was A. B. Humphrey. He is a most remarkable man. By his own confession he is a silver mine owner and doesn't want to get a double price for his silver. He says he and other silver mine owners are making plenty of money at present prices. He is also a manufacturer in New York city, and ought to be a free silver man so that he might pay his men in fifty-three cent dollars, but he is looking out only for the interests of labor. He is a rare combination, indeed, of a silver mine owner and a laborer, but the audience, for some reason, didn't take much stock in his disinterested love for labor, and many men left the hall in disgust when he announced that the glass works at Owego had started up a week before election all because the proprietors were sure McKinley would be elected and that "McKinley is now restored."

The second speaker was James B. Townsend. His speech consisted principally of a recital of his pedigree. He claimed to be a great grandson of Henry Wisner, and talked glibly of his "revolutionary" sires, and then talked about the "great crisis" that is upon us and the importance of "preparing the bones" of the country.

The last speaker was Rev. Richard Grogan, a unique character certainly, but a pretty good talker, although it does not offer any better arguments for the gospel he preaches than for the cause of McKinley, we fear his converts will be few.

Mr. Grogan's hair reached down to his shoulders, and he says he won't cut it until a Republican President is elected. From present indications his hair is likely to grow much longer.

Mr. Grogan had a great deal to say about the benefits of the McKinley bill and the calamities that have followed the adoption of a new tariff. He was quite humorous and told a few good stories, which amused the audience and was a relief from the dry speeches that had preceded.

The audience gave him more respectful attention because he is a clergyman and a veteran, as well as an old man, than his discourse really merited.

Three cheers for McKinley were called for, but the response was weak indeed.

ERIE'S WINTER TIME TABLE.

Changes in Time of Several Trains to be Made Sunday.

The Erie's winter time table will go into effect at noon, on Sunday.

The following are the changes in time of several bound trains.

Middletown Way leaves at 6:30 a. m., or four minutes earlier than formerly.

No. 2 leaves at 5:07 p. m., or fifteen minutes later than formerly.

No. 22 leaves at 7:27 p. m., or seven minutes later than formerly.

The milk train will leave at 7 p. m., one hour and three minutes earlier than formerly. The train will run on the same time daily and Sunday, but will carry passengers only on Sunday.

Going west the milk will leave at 7 a. m., or three minutes later.

No. 9 will run on her old time, but only as far west as Port Jervis.

No. 5 will leave at 1:07 p. m., or five minutes earlier than formerly and will stop here only on Sunday as usual.

Last Meeting of the Campaign.

Dr. Gillson, who has done most efficient work on the stump, will close the campaign at Monticomey, Monday night. Judge Downs, of Montgomery, and E. S. Merrill, candidate for Special County Judge, will also speak there that night. Dr. Gillson spoke in Montgomery, several weeks ago, and his return to that village is brought about, the Reporter says, by the united request of all who heard his former speech, Republicans and Democrats alike. The Reporter also says that the doctor is a magnetic talker and holds his audience to the closest attention during the entire time he is talking.

SEND HENRY, SIOU.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, a thing directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

HOW TO VOTE.

Plain and Simple Directions—The Law Interpreted by the Attorney-General.

Attorney-General Hancock, in an opinion written Tuesday, gives the following simple directions to voters:

An examination of the law makes it apparent that in order to vote a straight ticket a cross mark is to be made in the circle at the head of the party column.

A split ticket may be voted in either of two ways:

1. By omitting a cross mark in the circle and making a cross mark in the voting space before the name of each candidate for whom the elector desires to vote on whatever ticket the name may appear.

2. By making a cross mark in the circle above the name of the party, some of whose candidates he desires to vote for, and a so making cross mark, before the name or names of any candidates in other party columns for whom the elector wishes to vote, in which case his vote must be counted for every candidate under whose names the elector has made his cross mark in other party columns. The candidate or candidates so individually marked in other party columns must be deemed the choice of the elector and his vote counted accordingly.

HELD UP A MILKMAN.

He Was Prepared and Got the Drop on the Highwayman.

V. R. Dilliston, a Port Jervis milkman, was held up by two men while coming to the village, yesterday morning. The men sprang from the roadside, and while one caught the horse by the bit the other pushed open the door and said: "Young fellow fork over your cash and be quick about it."

This was not Mr. Dilliston's first experience with highwaymen and he was prepared. Before the man had ceased speaking he was looking into the muzzle of a revolver and at the command, "You got," he got and so did his companion.

Wreck on the O. and W.'s Scranton Division.

The way freight on the O. and W. ran into the rear of a stalled coal train on the Scranton division in Hancock, Wednesday. The way freight engine and a pusher engine that was helping the coal train were both considerably damaged and a flat car in the train was broken in two. Engineer D. H. Smith, of the pusher engine, was thrown from the window of his cab, but escaped other injury than a bad shaking up and a few bruises.

May Recover from His Wound.

From the Montgomery Reporter

James Somers, the son of Patrick Somers, of near Searsville, who accidentally shot himself last week and whose condition was very precarious at one time, is now resting very easily and is doing as well as could be expected considering the nature of the injury. The bullet has not as yet been removed, and is supposed to be lodged in the lung. There are considerable hopes that the young man may fully recover.

Burglaries in Hancock.

Burglars entered the offices of E. E. Wheeler & Co., E. J. Bussman and Randall & Underwood in Hancock, Tuesday night. They rifled the safes and desks in Wheeler's and Bussman's offices and the desk in Underwood's office. From Wheeler's safe they got $2.50. What they got from Mr. Bussman's is not known as he is out of town. It is thought, however, that they got very little to reward them for their efforts.

The Settlement of All Election Wagers.

An exchange says that if McKinley is elected President the Rev. John Oller, a Baptist minister of Chenango county, will preach a sermon with his coat, vest and trousers turned inside out. If Bryan is elected Davis Armstrong, a telegraph operator, will sit at church with his upper garment reversed to hear the Rev. Mr. Oller's sermon. Such was the agreement made between the two one day last week.

An Impromptu Democratic Meeting.

An impromptu Democratic meeting was held in Otisville, last evening, which was addressed by Edwin S. Merrill, Democratic candidate for Special County Judge. Barely two hours' notice of the meeting was given, but at least seventy-five persons assembled and were addressed by Mr. Merrill from the hotel piazza. Dr. J. J. Mills and Dan Greenleaf, of Port Jervis, speak in Otisville, to-night.

Voters Attention!

All voters, regardless of party, are invited to call at the rooms of the Third Ward Bryan and Sewall Club, 14 Canal street, Thursday and Friday evenings, to familiarize themselves with the new ballot, and if desired to receive instructions as to how to mark and fold the ballot.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of Constipation and Sick Headache. For Malaria and other troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be absolutely free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by acting upon the stomach and bowels, really invigorate the system. Regular 25c. per box. Sold by McMonagle & Rogers Druggists.

HER HAPPY DAY.

A Charming Story of Medicine and Marriage.

Two Open Letters From a Chicago Girl—How Happiness Came to Her.

Among the tens of thousands of women who apply to Mrs. Pinkham for advice and are cured, are many who wish the facts in their cases made public, but do not give permission to publish their names for reasons as obvious as in the following, and no name is ever published without the writer's authority; this is a bond of faith which Mrs. Pinkham has never broken.

Chicago, Jan. 28, '06.
My dear Mrs. Pinkham—
A friend of mine, Mrs. [name], wants me to write you, because she says "you did her so much good." I am desperate. Am nineteen years of age, tall, and more skeleton. From your little book I think my trouble is profuse menstruation. My symptoms are—
Our doctor (my uncle) tells father that I am in consumption, and wants to take me to Florida. Please help me! Tell me what to do, and tell me quickly. I am engaged to be married in September. Shall I live to see the day?
LUCY E. W.

Chicago, June 16th, '05.
My dear Mrs. Pinkham—
This is a happy day. I am well and gaining weight daily, but shall continue the treatment and Vegetable Compound during the summer, as you suggest. Uncle leaves nothing about what you have done for me, because it would make things very unpleasant in the family. I would like to give you a testimonial to publish, but father would not allow it. I shall be married in September, and as we go to Boston, will call upon you. How can I prove my gratitude?
LUCY E. W.

Just such cases as the above leak out in women's circles, and that is why the confidence of the women of America is bestowed upon Mrs. Pinkham.

Why are not physicians more candid with women when suffering from such ailments?

Women want the truth, and if they cannot get it from their doctor, will seek it elsewhere.

A HYPNOTIZER HYPNOTIZED.

Had Lots of Fun Until He Found a "Subject" as Smart as Himself.

A well known young man has had lots of fun hypnotizing his friends, or rather while pre-empting to do so by making passes over the face of his "subject" with a hand previously dipped in lamp black. A highly decorated physiognomy resulted, of course, and the hypnotist and those who were witnesses laughed at the victim's expense.

Yesterday, a well-known man who was "on" entered the hypnotizer's place, and was immediately selected as a subject. He pleaded delay for a moment as he wanted a drink of water. He went into a rear room where there is a barrel, filled his mouth with water and returned and the hypnotizer commenced operations, but just as he was about to apply the water let it go full into the face of the hypnotist.

Hypnotism isn't practiced in that establishment any more.
